About the Books

Back Porch Swing By Allen Bohl

Back Porch Swing is a novel that emerges from the heart of a down-to-earth family living in eastern Kentucky. Lance Stoler, the oldest son, is riding the wave of college basketball recruitment. He and his family are touched by good, evil, and the pains of letting go. Problems are met head-on and dealt with through the power of friendship, love, family, and growing faith.

After reading this novel, overflowing with life, you will find that Back Porch Swing accents the power of love, friendship, and faith, and is also a wonderful way to showcase family values.

About the Authors

Dr. Allen Bohl is a native of Vermilion, Ohio. He earned a bachelor's degree from Bowling Green State University in 1970, a master's in education from the University of Southern Mississippi in 1973, and a Ph.D. from The Ohio State University in 1978.

His extensive career in athletic administration began as an Assistant Athletic director at Ohio State, then continued as Athletic Director at the University of Toledo, Fresno State, and the University of Kansas. For nearly 25 years, Bohl provided impressive leadership for athletic programs across the nation.

He is an adjunct professor at Flagler College and serves on the Community in Schools Board for St. John's County.

Al and his wife, Sherry, live in St. Augustine, Florida where he is working on his third novel, Over the Oak.

Getting to Thanksgiving By Allen Bohl & Brett Bohl

Getting to Thanksgiving exposes the dynamic interactions that can occur between family members and humbly reminds us to not only teach our children well, but to learn from our own experiences to become an admirable role model. This inspirational novel will cause many to realize that getting to Thanksgiving is not only a physical trip, but also a spiritual journey.

Vince Sanford is a high school football coach who has entered a midlife dilemma. How can he be sure that he is passing on important values and stories to his children? What coaching has he gained from his parents and his own past? Such questions are raised during this heartwarming story about coming of age, family values, self-discipline, and offering thanks for life's many blessings.

Mary's Lamb By Sherry Bohl

Mary's Lamb lovingly portrays scenes from the life of Jesus in rhyme. This beautifully illustrated work leads the reader from his birth to the Resurrection. The words flow with such care and ease that they can be sung to a slow jovial beat.

The first three verses of Mary's Lamb were initially written over twenty years ago while Sherry Bohl was teaching kindergarten in Dublin, Ohio. Through the years, the author has added more verses, but has kept the extended script hidden close in her heart... until now. When the author was introduced to the gifted young artist, Benjamin Enzfelder, she immediately knew the perfect illustrator had been found to portray her manuscript. Now, Mary's Lamb has come to life in this book. Sing along and enjoy!

Sherry Bohl is the mother of three children and Nana to six grandchildren. She has had an outstanding career as an elementary teacher. Through the years she has taught students from kindergarten to fourth grade. Her goal has been to help each child grow as an individual and gain skills that will assist them through their lives.

Sherry earned her B.S. degree from Bowling Green State University and her Master in Education from the University of Kansas. She presently is employed as a third grade teacher in the St. Johns County School District in St. Augustine, Florida.

Together with her husband, they have two sons, Brett and Nathan, one daughter, Heidi, and six wonderful grandchildren.

The foundation of family is love.
